

The Pyramids

Text by Alan Gualandris, Music by Age of Collision

They awakened the fallen god
The forgotten one
Lost in the abyss
Now he rises to destroy

Hieroglyphs in the crypt were telling the truth
The omnipotent shadow is not a fable
Rising like a sandstorm in the ashes
He's back from the hells

The pyramids hid me for so long
Now I'm here to burn the world to the ground
Women are dying and priests are praying
As I reverse the world upside down

I will live forever and you'll die with the most horrific shivers
Except if you find the way to stop me
Your plans won't work to catch me
I'm more powerful than the sun

Fear me now

Can you see through my eyes ?
There's one plague you can fight, it's me
I breathe the death on you

Dust through your eyes
A flashing light in the haze
Smoke down the street
I'm a ghost in the shadow's world

They awakened the fallen god
The forgotten one

Nothing is real in the world you created
Life is the illusion of dead souls creeping together
Now feel the pain from the inside
From the lungs to the throat
And die from the hand of Bitchzilla
